Designing a Study

Get into small groups (shoot for 3 people per group.) As a group, devise a way to figure out what percentage of UPS students approve of the job their campus president is doing. Assume that the data needs to be obtained by noon tomorrow. Write your method down, with enough detail that another group could carry out your sampling based on what you have written.